

When They Go and You Do Not

About Dying and Coming Back to Life

What: A Conversation with Actress Susan Merson

When: Saturday, Saturday March 3, 2012

Time: 10 am–1 pm (9:30 Registration)
Light lunch to follow

Where: Trinity Episcopal Church
321 North Main Street
Three Rivers, MI 49093
(269) 273-3795

Cost: $15.00

Actress Susan Merson

- How can we respond honestly and creatively in the face of death?
- How might we live fully in the present, even in the midst of fear and pain?
- How do we move through and beyond loss and grief to new life?

In this half-day program, participants will hear Susan Merson reading from “When They Go and You Do Not”, the book that chronicles her journey through the untimely death of her husband, Tony Shultz, in 2008. Participants will be given an opportunity to reflect on their own experience of life and death, with the guidance of an experienced artist and educator.

As a longtime theater professional, Susan Merson has been active and productive on Broadway, Off Broadway, Off Off Broadway, in regional theater, on television and in major motion pictures in New York and Los Angeles (www.susanismerson.com) More recently, Susan has been focusing on writing and teaching, with published fiction, non-fiction and criticism. She has taught courses on Writing as a Spiritual Practice. Susan is the mother of a college-age daughter, and also quilts and crochets.

Register

Name

Address

Phone Number

Email

Lunch: Yes ___ No ___

Return to the above address
With check made out to Trinity Episcopal Church